CATALOG YEAR 2006-07
(Please use separate form for each add/change)

COLLEGE/SCHOOL: College of Business Administration

Current Catalog Page(s) Affected

Course: Add: X Delete: Change: Number MIS 6320 Title: Doctoral Seminar in Social and Organizational Issues in Information Systems. SCH 3 Description X Prerequisite

If new, provide Course Prefix, Number, Title, SCH Value, Description, prerequisite, and lecture/lab hours if applicable. If in current catalog, copy and paste the text from the on-line catalog and indicate changes in red.

MIS 6320: Doctoral Seminar in Social and Organizational Issues in Information Systems

The objective of this course is to provide the student with an understanding of how information systems impacts an organization and society, in other words, important organizational, social, legal and ethical issues raised by information systems. The student will be able to critically examine the issues/impact and will be exposed to research trends within these areas, such as themes, methods (methodologies used) and will be able formulate pertinent research questions. The student will be exposed to the following topics (but not limited to): IT and social controversies; IT and social change; IT and organizational change; Economic, cultural and organizational dimension of IT; Ethical perspectives and professional responsibilities for Information technology field, etc.

Program: Add: Change: Attach new/changed Program of Study description and 4-year plan. If in current catalog, copy and paste the text from the on-line catalog and indicate changes in red.

If in current catalog, copy and paste the text from the on-line catalog and indicate changes in red.

Faculty: Add: Delete: Change: Attach new/changed faculty entry.
If in current catalog, copy and paste the text from the on-line catalog and indicate changes in red.

College Introductory Pages: Add information: Change information: Attach new/changed information. If in current catalog, copy and paste the text from the on-line catalog and indicate changes in red.
Approvals:

Chair
Department Curriculum Committee

Chair
Department

Chair
College Curriculum Committee

Dean

Signature

Date

7/28/05

7/28/05

9/14/05

9/15/05
MIS 6320 Seminar in Social and Organizational Issues in Information Systems

Credit:

Three semester hours

Course Description:

The objective of this course is to provide the student with an understanding of how information systems impacts an organization and society, in other words, important organizational, social, legal and ethical issues raised by information systems. The student will be able to critically examine the issues/impact and will be exposed to research trends within these areas, such as themes, methods (methodologies used) and will be able to formulate pertinent research questions. The student will be exposed to the following topics (but not limited to): IT and social controversies; IT and social change; IT and organizational change; economic, cultural and organizational dimension of IT; ethical perspectives and professional responsibilities for information technology field, etc.

Prerequisites:

Consent of the instructor and the Graduate Advisor

Student Learning Outcomes:

- Students will appraise the social and organizational issues in Information Systems and assess the impact of research trends in the field.
- Students will formulate pertinent research questions within these areas and integrate them into seminar research projects.
- Students will compile research reports that incorporate their synthesis of seminar topics and render them suitable for presentation at professional academic settings or for publication in refereed journals.
Seminar Topics:

- Information technology and social controversies
- Information technology and social change
- Information technology as a mechanism of organizational change
- Economic, cultural and organizational dimensions of information technology
- History of IT and organizational transformation
- IT and the transformation of the organizational environment
- The practice of IT and organizational transformation
- IT and the shifting balance between privacy and organizational & social control
- Information technology outsourcing (socio-economic makeup)
- Issues in connection with the digital divide
- IT and Business Process Reengineering/design
- Strategic Implications of IT as a mechanism for competitiveness
- Gender differences in information technology career paths
- Ethical perspectives and professional responsibilities for IT field