CRIJ 5325 - Seminar in Corrections

Three semester hours. (FL)

~~An in-depth study of correctional issues with a focus on prisons. The course compares the correctional practices of various states, and provides a detailed study in correctional law. "Classic scholarly works" in corrections are also studied as they shaped the academic field of corrections. Examines all dimensions of corrections, including institutional and community correctional organizations. Prisons and jails are featured, together with a variety of institutional and community programs operating to meet the diverse needs of inmates who eventually seek reentry into society. In addition, the types of rehabilitative and reintegrative programming for all types of correctional clients, including probationers, parolees, and divertees are discussed. The functions and operations of all types of correctional organizations are examined, including their historical development and evolution. Also, several important contemporary correctional issues are presented and examined.~~
Prerequisite: Graduate Status
