PSYC 4306 This course explores the development of child language as it relates to sounds, grammar and speech of young children. It also examines the relationship between cognitive development and language in monolingual and bilingual children. Prerequisite: PSYC 2301, or permission of instructor. (Cross listed with CSDO 4333). Change: added: (Cross listed with CSDO 4333).

JUSTIFICATION: To better fit the curriculum needs of Education and Speech Pathology majors.