Course Description:

EDCI 5315

Advanced Design for Instructional Methods

Three semester hours.

~~Theories, principles, and current research on development and learning, from birth through adulthood, are studied. Appropriate curriculum, organizational plans, and instructional strategies for different stages of development are explored.~~ Designed to develop enhanced knowledge and practice in the use of instructional tools and methods relating to instructional theory. Beginning with a review of theoretical foundations of instruction, the course will progress through the acquisition of additional tools for formally developing instruction to the development of an individual project centering upon an integrated learning (thematic) unit. Emphasis will be placed upon technology tools that aid course development and delivery. Alternative assessment design, technology delivery of instruction, techniques for authentic instruction, and other concepts will be incorporated into the final project.

Prerequisite: Graduate standing.
