Course Description:

EDIT 5330

Courseware and Presentation Tools

Three semester credit hours.

This course presents students with an overview of a range of software applications with which they can develop educational and instructional materials. The course provides a conceptual framework for understanding software design as well as the opportunity for hands-on experience with a variety of software packages. In addition, students will design an instructional module that is materials-centered rather than teacher-mediated and can be shared and used in real educational settings. Students will explore the primary methods of computer-based instruction, and the major components of instructional development through print-based and internet resources. Prerequisite: Three (3) semester hours of graduate-level EDIT coursework, or permission of instructor.
