EDRD 5319 is the graduate course in Reading Diagnosis. The course is part of the Masters in Reading and the Reading Specialist programs, which prepare Reading professionals to work in both classroom and clinical settings. The purpose of EDRD 5319 is to prepare Reading professionals to diagnose, prescribe, and remediate students having various reading problems.

The Stanford Diagnostic Reading Test provides a battery of tests which can be used to develop a profile on students to properly diagnose areas of reading difficulty in students. The $15.00 course fee will help to defray the expense of purchasing these test materials to be used by students enrolled in EDRD 5319. Tests and test materials that would be purchased are highlighted in yellow on the attached list.
