PSYC 4303

Abnormal Psychology

Three semester hours.

Introduces symptoms, descriptions, etiology, and treatment of major mental disorders such as mood, anxiety, substance-related, psychotic, childhood, eating, and personality disorders. Prerequisite: ~~Six hours of psychology.~~ PSYC 2301 or SOCI 1301 or CRIJ 1301. May be taken for graduate credit.

Justification: Background in any introductory social science is sufficient for this course. Course work and content is “independent” and does not require specific foundation in psychology. This also fits better with the goal of opening undergraduate students to a more “liberal” education as set by COAS and will allow a wider range of students to attend this class.
