ARTS 3100
Art and Children
One semester hour.
An introduction to the principles of art that can be related to the expressive and developmental needs of children from pre-school through the fourth grade. Changed to P-K to 6 per email 9/18/13. See page 3.

Justification: Course was originally numbered 3100 before becoming 1100 around 2003-04; the title, course description, and general goals of the course today are the same ones originally proposed as ARTS 3100 back then. Number changed to allow it to be taken by COE majors in Early Childhood Education in order to fulfill Core requirements in Fine Arts--and, at one SCH, it was probably felt not to be unfairly challenging to Core-level students.

Also, as currently numbered, the course serves as a sort of "hidden prerequisite" for Core-complete LCC transfers; they have to double back and take this as a 1000-level course (for their degree; it's not offered at LCC as a Core offering) once they transfer here for their upper-level work.

Proposed SLOs:

1. Students will be able to identify and describe basic knowledge of the elemental principles of art, such as line, shape, mass and volume, composition, etc.

2. Students will be able to explain the knowledge received on the principles of art, and relate it to the design of lesson plans, in presentations to their classmates.

Importance: High

Hi again Bede,

We notice that in each of the three “3100” course descriptions is the phrase “pre-school through the fourth grade.” Due to the change in our new EC-6 programs from EC-4 to EC-6, we ask that these descriptions be revised to read “pre-kindergarten through the sixth grade.”

Respectfully, Phil Roberson
