EDCI 1102

Introduction to the Teaching Profession

One semester hour

This course provides an overview of the teaching profession; requirements for Texas teaching credentials; and requirements of the various TAMU programs of study leading to teacher certification. Practical, legal, and ethical issues will be explored. Students will engage in field-based experiences. Concurrent: UNIV 1102. Corrected to UNIV 1101 per email from R. Brown

Student Learning Outcomes

1. The student evaluates the relationship between content, pedagogy, and curriculum standards.
2. The student investigates the impact of creating positive learning environment for all students.
3. The student analyzes the relationship between school and community to enhance student learning.
4. The student identifies the roles and responsibilities of specialists and other professionals at district and state levels.

Justification: Based on data, including from the Texas Education Agency (TEA) and program reviews, in order to better prepare the students we developed a professional education core for all education majors. By aligning the PPR Standards, Domains, and Competencies with the courses, we can ensure that the PPR standards are being addressed.

Subject: Correction to EDCI 1102

Greetings Mary:

I hope all is well.

In one of the new courses approved at the last UCC meeting there is a small correction we need to make. The course is EDCI 1102 Introduction to Teaching Profession. In the description we stated that the course will be concurrent with UNIV 1102. We need to change this to concurrent with UNIV 1101. We apologize for this necessary correction. It was an oversight on our part.

As always, thank you for all you do. You are the best.

Randel Brown
