Your suggestion is fine by me as it fits in with the general degree plan and fulfills the certification requirement. Please make the necessary changes. Thanks for all your help.

Subject: RE: BA History with Certification

So in making the adjustment, I have another question. If you look at the 4-year plan and remove the GEOG from the Spring Freshman year, where do those three hours go?

I checked the requirements again and noted that the POR indicates a change of the Non-US History from 6 to 9 SCH. The 4-year plan only shows two Non-US History entries – one in each semester of the junior year. So …. The program has sufficient advanced hours so that the General Elective could be lower level and replace the GEOG in the freshman year. The entry in the senior year could then be changed from Adv General Elective to Non-US History.

Please advise.

I believe it best to follow the certificate program requirement (Psyc 2314) in this case.

Colleagues,

In working with the core requirements for the BA History with certification, I have come across an inconsistency. The document submitted below indicates that GEOG 1303 must be selected as the Behavioral Science course in the core. However, the Social Behavioral Science course for certificate programs is PSYC 2314.

Please review the requirements and let me know how to proceed.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.
