Changes to the Course Descriptions of 7 History Undergraduate Courses: remove language allowing for graduate enrollment

Justification: The deletion of the phrase “May be taken for graduate credit” reflects the most up-to-date policies of our program, which no longer allow undergraduate courses to be taken for graduate credit. Other changes make the prerequisites uniform or clarify what will be discussed in the course.

(Please note: HIST 4331, which also includes this language, is submitted for elimination; HIST 4332 has already been approved to change to HIST 4339 with a new course description that eliminated this provision.)
