Annual Institutional Effectiveness Review (AIER)

Date Submitted  January 30, 2008

Assessment Period Covered (2007)

Academic Program/AES Unit  MS in School Counseling

Person(s) Preparing Review  Dr. Trace Pirtle

Provide summary of the last cycle’s use of results and changes implemented

Twenty-two (22) students in the MS in School Counseling program took TExES 152 in 2007. Twenty-one (21) passed the exam (Mean=259.3; Median=260.5; Mode=253; Std.Deviation=13.8) in the first year reflecting a 95% first-year pass rate. This statistic shows an improvement from the 91% pass rate reported in 2006, but still short of the 100% results which were realized in 2003-2005. In general, the results are satisfactory yet reflect a clear need for improvement. As in 2006, we continue to struggle with field-based (i.e., Internship) experiences, however, they are improving. Continuing to reinforce the utility of theory applied to practice remains a high priority and necessary to ensure quality school counseling services. The relative challenge area (Developmental Guidance and Counseling Programming--Objective 2) reported in 2006 was strengthened and our scores improved 11.5 standard points as a result. In fact, all three outcomes indicate improvement from last year (Outcome 1 increased by 4 points; Outcome 2 increased by 11.5 points; and Outcome 3 increased by 3 points). Score increases are based on the median. Based on the 2007 results, our focus will be on strengthening Outcome 3 (Collaboration, Consultation, and Professionalism). This outcome has the lowest median score (256.0…240 is passing) and nearly the greatest variability among test takers. Adding additional emphasis on professional, ethical, and legal issues should result in better scores and better prepared professionals.

<td>Provide narrative: Objective for this domain is 240. The median score for the outcome is 261.5. However, two students of the 22 test takers earned scores of 224 (one still passed the overall exam while the other did not). This indicates that more can be done to strengthen areas of human development, student diversity, and the factors affecting students. 100% passing in this competency is the only acceptable outcome.</td>

Additional time/effort needs to be given to the areas of program management and standardized assessment. 100% passing in this competency is the only acceptable outcome.</td>

<td>Provide narrative: Objective for this domain is 240. The median score for the outcome is 256.0. Three students failed to achieve the minimum score in this competency: 219, 229, and 236. Further, two additional students scored at the minimum 240 level which would suggest that more time be spent in the following areas: collaboration with families; collaborating with others in the school and community; and professionalism, including ethical and legal issues. This is the outcome which has been identified as the focus area for 2008.</td>

How have these data-based changes improved your program/unit?
Given that 95% of our students passed their state mandated test in 2007, we can state with confidence that we are meeting our mandate to prepare highly qualified school counselors. We have been able to do this as a result of analyzing the data from the practice test (which is comparable with the actual test), strengthening challenge areas among individual students, and then using the global results from the actual TEexas 152 to recommend program changes. Although we continue to use the results of high-states tests to make program modifications, it should be noted that it is our knowledge of best practices in counselor education that drives the program. More specifically, data derived from the test does not drive our program, it simply acts as one indicator of how well we are preparing our students for a career in school counseling.

Identify proposed outcomes for the next assessment cycle:

| Continuation of present outcome(s) – (Indicate reason for continuation): |
| The TExES 152 for School Counselors remains the mandated exam for certification of school counselors in Texas. Thus, we will continue aligning our outcomes with this test. |

| New Outcome(s) – (List outcomes below): |
| Add the total TExES 152 test score as a separate outcome. |

| Modification of present outcome(s) – (Indicate reason for modification): |
| Adding the total score is justified since it is the total TExES 152 score that determines passing or failing the test, not the individual domain scores. As reported in the summary of this report, 240 is the minimum passing standard. |
