The University
Texas A&M International University (TAMIU) is an international university, poised at the Gateway to México. It serves as the cultural and intellectual hub of a vibrant bilingual and bicultural community.

A Member of The Texas A&M University System, TAMIU is committed to the preparation of students for leadership roles in their chosen profession in an increasingly complex, culturally diverse state, national and global society.

The University provides over 7,000 students with a learning environment anchored by the highest quality programs built on a solid academic foundation in the arts and sciences. To fulfill its mission, the University offers a range of baccalaureate and masters programs and the Doctor of Philosophy degree in International Business. All programs focus on developing undergraduate and graduate offerings with a progressive international agenda for global study and understanding across all disciplines.

On average, students come to the University from over 30 different countries each semester, creating a diverse learning and living community.

Our Mission
Through instruction, faculty and student research, TAMIU embodies a strategic point of delivery for well-defined programs and services that improve the quality of life for citizens of the border region, the State of Texas, and national and international communities.

Our History
In August of 1970, students were accepted at what was then Texas A&I University at Laredo. While initially a “center” under then-Texas A&I University, this was the start of a legacy of higher education for South Texas. The focus then was to address a demand in teacher education and business disciplines. Texas A&I University at Laredo was organized under the upper-level concept of higher education, offering junior and senior level course work, providing a local bachelor’s degree opportunity. The upper-level University later expanded to include graduate degree programs.

In September 1977, the University became Laredo State University, and its “center” status was officially removed in 1987. As the University grew, its scope widened and an expanded faculty was recruited to deliver new programs. The University became a Member of The Texas A&M University System on September 1, 1989 and its name changed to Texas A&M International University in 1993.

The 74th Texas Legislature approved an expansion to four-year status in the Fall of 1995, further authorizing the University to develop joint degree programs with Mexican and Canadian institutions of higher education. Additional authorization has permitted the development of doctoral level programs.

In 1995 the University welcomed its first freshmen and sophomore students, inaugurated a new 300-acre campus in northeast Laredo and marked its 25th anniversary.

TAMIU Today
The campus recently completed Phase V of its Master Plan, including the Center for the Fine and Performing Arts’ Theatre and the Kinesiology, Wellness and Recreation Center. The University celebrated the formal dedication of its Senator Judith Zaffirini Student Success Center last fall. An expansion project for the TAMIU Student Center is now underway. The campus complex now represents a nearly $200 million investment in higher education in Laredo.

Now a regional University of choice, TAMIU is home to four colleges: the College of Arts and Sciences, the A. R. Sanchez, Jr. School of Business, the College of Education and the College of Nursing and Health Sciences with its Dr. F. M. Canseco School of Nursing.

Sandra Pruneda
Distinguished Student Scholar

Sandra Pruneda is the third daughter of María Del Rosario and Juan Carlos Pruneda. Born and raised in Laredo, she graduates summa cum laude with a Bachelor of Science in Psychology and a minor in English.

Sandra grew up with a love for theatre. As a teenager, she participated in Laredo Institute for Theatrical Education performances and in her middle and high school’s one act plays. As a recipient of the D.D. Hachar Honor’s Scholarship, she was able to fund her education here at Texas A&M International University.

In 2009, she was chosen as one of 15 students to travel to Ghana, western Africa as a part of the “Reading the Globe” Program. Her experiences there shaped her goals for her future. She plans on pursuing her education by attending graduate school, and aspires to one day run an orphanage for children.

Carolina S. Zavala
Distinguished Student Scholar

Carolina Stephanie Zavala is the daughter of Francisco Zavala and Teresa Vielma. Originally from Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, México, she is a distinguished 2009 graduate of Laredo’s Raymond and Tirza Martin High School. Today, she graduates summa cum laude with a 4.0 GPA, receiving a Bachelors of Business Administration with a major in Accounting with an Honors Certificate.

While a student at TAMIU, Zavala was named to the Dean’s List and was part of the University’s Honors Program. She will continue her graduate studies at TAMIU by pursuing a Master of Professional Accountancy. Among Zavala’s goals are becoming a Certified Public Accountant and obtaining a Ph.D. in Accounting.
Stephanie Marie Reyes, daughter of Carmen and Esteban Reyes Jr., graduates today with a Bachelor of Science in Nursing from the College of Nursing and Health Sciences’ Dr. F. M. Canseco School of Nursing. Reyes has been named to TAMIU’s Dean’s List and Honor Roll and recently became a member of the Sigma Theta Tau Honors Society. She has served as both member and Secretary of the Student Nurses’ Association.

After graduation, Reyes plans to work in an acute care facility in Laredo or elsewhere in Texas. She plans to gain experience in the medical surgical field to better secure an Intensive Care Unit position. To continue her professional growth, she plans to obtain a Master of Science in Nursing and hopes to always maintain compassion for those she cares for.

Selma Rochelle Herrera is the youngest daughter of Dr. Sergio Herrera and Carmen Cervantes. She graduated in 2009 from Laredo’s Alexander High School under the Distinguished Achievement Plan and received a scholarship to attend TAMIU as part of the University Honors Program. Today, she graduates Summa Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Science degree in Communication Disorders. Throughout her years at TAMIU, Herrera has been an active member of the Association of International Students, served as an international student mentor, participated in the Dustdevil Women’s Soccer team, and was a student employee in the TAMIU Registrar’s Office for two years. She was also an active member and historian of the National Student Speech Language Hearing Association (NSSLHA), one of the campus’ largest and most active organizations.

This year, Herrera was chosen to be the National Fellowship nominee for the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi, TAMIU Chapter. In the fall, she will attend Texas Christian University to pursue her Master’s degree in bilingual speech-language pathology.

Academic Costumes and Regalia:
A Brief History and Chronology
By Dr. Stephen Lunce and Dr. Jerry Thompson

Academic costumes of today have a history of nearly eight hundred years. In Medieval Europe men and women typically wore gowns or robes. There was a great deal of variety in color and material, depending upon the position and wealth of the wearer. Gradually there developed distinctive gowns for various professions, trades and religious orders. Students and teachers in many medieval universities such as Paris, Oxford and Cambridge organized themselves into guilds. Gradually the academic costume became distinctive for Bachelors of Arts (the apprentices), Masters of Arts (the teachers), and Doctors (teachers who had completed postgraduate studies). Most of the distinctive characteristics appeared in the hood, which was originally a practical element of dress, but which evolved into a separate and purely ornamental article, draped over the shoulder and down the back. The academic cap was a later development. It was first conferred as a symbol of the M. A. Degree. Some of these Master's caps were stiff, some soft, some square, some round with a tuft in the center. Today's tassel is an elaboration of the tuft. Although round caps are still used at some universities, Oxford University's "mortar board" style is more common. The dress worn by faculty and graduates during Commencement ceremonies is based upon costumes used in 14th and 15th century universities, particularly Oxford and Cambridge in England. This style of academic dress and accoutrements has been used in the United States from colonial times, and it was standardized by an Intercollegiate Code in 1895. Like the military of medieval times with its pages, squires, and knights, the academic world has long recognized three basic levels of dignity and achievement; these are: undergraduates, bachelors, and masters. The distinction between masters and doctors is a relatively recent phenomenon; both masters and doctors levels of achievement imply the right to teach. The variety of styles and colors seen in a faculty procession reflects the fact that each university retains its own distinguishing customs as especially revealed by the design of its doctoral robes. When a university is granted the right to confer doctoral degrees, one of the privileges that accompanies that right is the opportunity to design unique and distinctive regalia for its graduates.

12th/13th Centuries: Origin of academic dress – the dress of the scholar (student or teacher) is the dress of a cleric. Long robes are needed for warmth in unheated buildings; likewise, the hood provided warmth for the tonsured head. Eventually, a skullcap replaces the hood, 1321. University of Colombia stipulates that all “Doctors, Licentiates and Bachelors’ wear robes.”

14th Century: Regulations of certain colleges in England forbid “excess in apparel” and prescribed a long gown for all scholars. Oxford and Cambridge prescribe a definite academic dress and exercise university control over all details.

19th Century (late): Assignment of specific colors to signify certain faculties is standardized in the United States.

1887: Gardner Cotrell Leonard’s designed gowns adopted by Williams College. The standardization of American system of academic dress has begun.

1895: Representatives of leading institutions, including Leonard, meeting as the Intercollegiate Commission, define a system of academic apparel. In the meeting, held at Columbia University, the first academic costume code for different disciplines is established.

1932: American Council on Education approves the costume code established by the Intercollegiate Commission.

1959: Academic costume code is updated.

1986: The American Council on Education committee adds the following sentence to the code to clarify the use of dark blue for the Ph.D. Degree. “In the case of the Doctor of Philosophy Degree, the dark blue color is used to represent the mastery of the discipline of learning and scholarship in any field that is attested to by the awarding of this degree and is not intended to represent the field of philosophy.”

Ceremonial Mace

Dating back to medieval times when they were used as weapons of war, maces are now symbols of institutional authority and used on ceremonial occasions.

The TAMIU Mace is a wood staff crowned with laurel leaves and anchored by a series of silver bands naming the University’s presidents. It signifies the University’s power to protect knowledge against those seeking to undermine or exploit it, while also representing TAMIU’s commitment to intellectual honesty and integrity and the civic trust acknowledged with its display and use.

Memory Stoles

Memory Stoles, worn around the neck throughout the graduation ceremony, are a way for graduates to share this memorable occasion with a special person. Wear it with pride and give the Memory Stole to someone who helped you in your personal quest for knowledge.

Our Alma Mater

SUNG TO THE THEME FROM THE FOURTH MOVEMENT
OF BEETHOVEN’S NINTH SYMPHONY

A Song for
Texas A&M International University

Near to Rio Grande’s waters, stately towers above the plain,
Stands our noble Alma Mater, wisdom raised for all to gain.

Binding nations, hearts and visions, aspirations ever new,

    Hail to Thee, our Alma Mater!
    Hail to Thee, dear TAMIU!

Here, ’neath sun and gentle breezes, dove and deer lodge safely by,
May Thy children, safe in wisdom, flourish ever ’neath Thy sky.
Pledge we faith and homage ever, joined in our diversity,
May time ne’er efface the memory of our University!

Binding nations, hearts and visions, aspirations ever new,

    Hail to Thee, our Alma Mater!
    Hail to Thee, dear TAMIU! ©1996
