

Academic Probation FAQ

- What is required of me if I'm on academic probation?
  - All freshman and sophomore undergraduate students on academic probation will have an advising hold placed on their account that will only be lifted after the student has met with their academic advisor and they are back in good standing. The advisor will review the probation policies, grading, success strategies and available resources and will possibly place the student on an Academic Improvement Plan. These students will be asked to repeat courses, seek tutoring, and schedule follow up appointments with an advisor. Sophomore probation students will be required to meet with a sophomore mentor as part of their Academic Improvement Plan.
