Justification: In 1991, a course on child sexual abuse was added to the criminal justice curriculum but the faculty member left and it was later deleted. As a result, social and behavioral science majors (Sociology, Criminal Justice and Psychology) do not have access to a course on child maltreatment. A new course would allow development of professional skills on this major issue.

COURSE: SOCI 4385: Child Maltreatment

3 SCH

Description: This course examines theory and research on child abuse and neglect with a focus on interventions for offenders and victims.

SLOs: Upon completion of this course, it is expected that the student will be able to:

- 1. Identify types of child abuse and neglect.
- 2. Explain concepts and theories in the area of child maltreatment.
- 3. Explain research findings in the area of child maltreatment.
- 4. Analyze the impact of social service and criminal justice child maltreatment interventions.

Yes, they should have a "junior standing" pre-requisite.

Thanks!

Claudia,

Mary T. noticed that your new course additions do not have a prereq for SOCI 1301 or junior standing. Did the program intend to omit a prerequisite for these courses?

Please confirm with Mary and me.

Best, Fran
