Biography

Katherine Minter is the Past National Chairperson of the American Psychological Association’s Teachers of Psychology in Secondary Schools (TOPSS) and a 2008 recipient of the National Excellence in Teaching Award from the American Psychological Association. Currently teaching at Westwood High School, Austin, Texas, Katherine brings over 23 years teaching experience at both the high school and college levels and is experienced with AP, IB, and Regular psychology curriculums. As a College Board Approved National Consultant traveling nationally for over 18 years, and as an AP Reader of psychology exams for many years, Katherine offers innovative, engaging ways to cover the content of a typical college introductory course. Ms. Minter received the College Board’s Southwestern Regional “Excellence in Teaching” Award in 1996, and was also “Teacher of the Year” at Westwood High School for 2000-2001. Katherine has served as Southwestern Regional Coordinator for Teachers of Psychology in Secondary Schools, and she has written an AP Instructor’s Manual for a McGraw-Hill college textbook released in 2007 for Introductory Psychology. Katherine is a contributing writer for the TOPSS Lesson Plans for teachers in APA, and she is co-author of a psychology textbook for Pearson/Prentice-Hall published in 2011.
